

Biographical Sketch

Uvetta Dozier teaches the introductory biology courses for STEM and non-STEM majors at Bowie State University, Bowie, MD. She received her doctorate in Biology in 2010. Prior to pursuing her doctorate, she was a biologist with the U.S. Department of the Interior. She has taught several courses including Biological Science, Introduction to Biology, Botany, and Molecular Biology. Her research has included investigating the shelf life of liquid products and investigating the Receptor for activated C kinase 1 protein.