

To Whom It May Concern,

Research plays a critical role in everyone's lives everyday. Your life or the life of a loved one may be impacted by the next medical breakthrough or research funding decision. Meanwhile, we are learning more about our world, unlocking clues about our history and what's happening beyond our planet.

You can be among the first to learn about the latest science news with Sigma Xi SmartBrief. It is an email sent daily, Monday through Friday, with a round-up of articles from sources such as Discover, the BBC, and The Washington Post.

Sigma Xi SmartBrief is published by SmartBrief, a business news publisher, in partnership with Sigma Xi, The Scientific Research Society. Sigma Xi is an honor society of researchers. Many researchers count their subscription to Sigma Xi SmartBrief as a major membership benefit, but you can subscribe for free without becoming a member.

We hope that you subscribe, and share this opportunity to learn more about our world, and beyond, with your family, friends, and colleagues.

Sincerely,

Sigma Xi, The Scientific Research Society
